

U.N. Appeals to Russia to Cancel Bomb

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A call for the Soviet Union to abandon its plan to explode a 50 megaton nuclear bomb seemed assured today of U.N. approval.

Few nations are expected to oppose the appeal to Premier Khrushchev placed before the 101-nation U.N. Political Committee by six countries on the fringe of the Soviet test area.

But an Asian-African group sought to widen the resolution into an appeal for a moratorium on all tests.

India objected to the sponsor's demand that it be given top priority, and Guinea said it would not take part in the vote on grounds it was a cold war item. But most of the neutrals indicated privately they would support the move.

The Soviet Union kept silent during Friday's debate on the appeal, which was put forth by Canada, Denmark, Sweden, Japan, Iceland and Norway. Diplomats speculated, however, that the Soviets might reject it on grounds that the tests concerned only the Soviet Union.

"That's about the only way they could oppose it," said one delegate. The sponsors called for top priority on the appeal to get it to Khrushchev before the Soviet Union goes through with plans for the 50-megaton blast scheduled for Oct. 31.

A group of Asian-African nations, including Ethiopia, Ghana, Sudan and Nepal is behind the move to broaden the resolution into an appeal to all atomic powers to refrain from tests.

Some delegates opposed widening the scope of the resolution to embrace all tests for fear it would lose its impact. Other felt it would receive the sting from the original draft and lose chance of Communist opposition.

Canadian Foreign Minister Howard Green said that fallout knew no boundaries and if the explosion were to take place, "it will signify contempt for the resolutions of the United Nations."

PARIS (AP)—American Air Force officials said today four U.S. bases in France will be put back in action as part of the defense buildup in Western Europe.

In addition to the base at Chambley, Etain and Phalsbourg, the decision to put the bases back into action represents a change in U.S. policy.

The four bases were placed on a standby, housekeeping basis two years ago, when President Charles de Gaulle refused to permit the stockpiling of U.S. atomic bombs on French soil. This was share atomic secrets with France, in retaliation for U.S. refusal to such sharing is barred by American law.

Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme allied commander in Europe, then ordered planes stationed at the French bases transferred to Britain and elsewhere.

Now with the U.S. buildup because of the crisis over Berlin, for Europe are badly needed.

Air Force sources declined to give details of the number of men or types of planes being assigned to the bases except for Chambley.

The announcement earlier this week said 1,200 men were being sent to reactivate Chambley.

French sources said planes to be sent to Chambley would be F100 and possibly later F104 jets.

Air Force sources said repair and repaving work is under way at the bases. They said some of the Air Force units headed for Europe also will be based at Dreux, which was maintained for the past two years but is undermanned.

U. S. Justice Beats Drum for Russia

PATTERSON, N.J. (AP)—Justice William O. Douglas of the U.S. Supreme Court says American aid to underprivileged nations is far behind that of the Soviet Union.

Douglas, who recently returned from an extensive tour of Asia and the Soviet Union, told the Bank Business Management Conference Thursday night that corrective measures must be taken immediately.

"We should be exporting more talent, not dollars," the justice added. "This is a contest for the hearts and minds of the peoples of the world. The question is not how far the Russians are behind us but how far ahead Russia is of the nations that are looking up to her for help."

This Is Newsboy Week Over Nation

By MARY ANITA LASETER

This is for, for, and about the newspaper carrier boy. After all, it's his week.

An interesting situation exists in our town. In 1936 John Crosby delivered the HOPE STAR on a route in the N. Hervey St. area.

Today, 25 years later, his son Steve has the very same route. They know why the newspaper carrier boy is called the success.

When Bing had the job of Hope Star delivery boy, the paper had a series of articles highlighting each of its carriers. Bing was pleased when his time came, of course, though he admits it didn't sell like the sensational Lindbergh kidnapping extra or the centennial edition, both out the same year.

As an incentive to work harder at getting subscribers, the boys were offered $10 in merchandise at a local store. The nice trips they have today were not given as prizes.

On the other hand, the Hope Star carriers leave tomorrow for a trip to the Louisiana State Fair in Shreveport. Numerous trips have been made to Lake Greenwood and Lake Ouachita. Some have gone to the broadcast of Red Foley's TV show, to Yellowstone National Park, Mt. Magazine, and New Orleans.

In St. Louis some lucky HOPE STAR carriers saw the Cardinals play baseball, and on November 5 they have been invited to be the guests of the Dallas Cowboys football team. Each year at Christmastime there is a HOPE STAR party for all newspaper carriers in town, regardless of the publications delivered by them.

Circulation manager C. M. "Pod" Rogers, Jr. says two girls are now among the HOPE STAR carriers. They are Peggy McKemie of Fulton and Sandra Trexler of Emmet. Darrell Robinson delivers the STAR in Washington, while in Prescott there are Sammy Cornelius, Bill Eaves, and Vern Meeks fulfilling those duties.

Local HOPE STAR delivery boys are Jimmy Whitten, Ronnie Smith, Kenneth Willis, G. W. Mariner, Alan Parish, Dwight Walton, Tony Smith, Freddie Easterling, Steve Crosby, Jim James, Jr., Charles Latham, Kenneth Willis, Dennis Ramsey, Doug Rogers, Eddie Aslin, Randy Still, Jim Brown, Tommy Seale, Joe Walshall, Gary Hollis, and Keith Woods. The Negro routes are handled by Vander Lloyd and Earl Edwards.

Anti-Trujillo Rumbling in Dom. Republic

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—This Caribbean island nation seethed with hostile anti-Trujillo rumblings today after a night of bloody rioting. Prospects heightened for a government proclamation of martial law.

Unofficial sources listed at least two teen-agers dead and about 45 others persons injured in Friday night's rioting—the most violent outbreak here since the assassination of Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo last May.

The official police report mentioned no deaths but said an undetermined number were injured, including 15 policemen who suffered minor injuries from rock barrages.

Police announced the arrest of 57 members of youth groups who hurled stones in clashes with steel-helmeted police units in downtown streets of the capital. Officers beat back the attacks with semiautomatic rifles, water hoses and tear gas, while hundreds lined the sidewalks and rooted for the youngsters.

The exchange lasted about 25 minutes before police drove back the demonstrators and seized control. Offshoot demonstrations that formed later in the nearby streets were quickly put down.

The battle capped five days of antigovernment demonstrations set off by student protests against the appointment of a new rector for Santo Domingo University accused of being a Trujillo man. An association of professors at the school joined the students Friday in demanding his removal.

The resolution approved by 141 of the university's 143 professors said that the closing of the school by the government following student demonstrations was no solution.

Signs of the impending violence came when youths sealed off streets in a two-square-block area which they called the "free territory of the Dominican Republic."

Some were seen loading rooftops with stones and metal objects. Four companies of police moved in later after several hundred demonstrators marched down a main street shouting "liberty!"

A car carrying Ernesto Rubirosa, vice president of the ruling Dominican party, was stoned and sped away.

A young woman carrying a child was among at least 20 bleeding and weeping injured led from the scene. Police claimed the woman was hit by a rock.

There were reports that at least three members of the Trujillo family—all brothers of the late dictator—may leave the Dominican Republic this weekend. The departure of the family has been demanded by opposition factions before they will negotiate with President Joaquin Balaguer on his proposal for a coalition government.

The Trujillos headed for exile were identified as Gens. Hector, Jose Arizandi and Pedro Trujillo. Official sources would neither confirm nor deny the reports. Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr., the dictator's son and chief of the armed forces, has declared his determination to remain here.

The army has not put in a known appearance in the five-day-old riots. Opposition sources claim, however, that soldiers have been pressed into riot service disguised as police.

Traffic Hasn't Ruined a Rug

BONNER SPRINGS, Kan. (AP)—Traffic through the new home of Mrs. Melba Mitchell hasn't worn out her walk-to-wall carpeting.

The rug is on the living room ceiling.

It doesn't get soiled there, and Mrs. Mitchell can sit in her chair, look up and enjoy it.

Mrs. Mitchell says she always has wanted walk-to-wall carpeting but with five sons and a daughter the traffic in and out of the house would wreck a good rug in no time.

Workmen applied a heavy adhesive to the ceiling and rolled the carpet in place in three foot widths.

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda, the Communist party paper, disclosed today that a campaign of denunciation unmatched since the 1953 execution of Lavrenti Beria and Stalin's purge trials is being waged against former Premier Georgi M. Malenkov and former Deputy Premier Lazar M. Kaganovich.

It printed hitherto secret speeches before the current party congress accusing them of beating, torturing and executing innocent Communist party officials during Stalin's reign of terror in the 1930s.

The speeches also charged they were involved and directly responsible for executions under N. S. Khrushchev—bloodyest of the purges.

No one in the history of the Soviet Union has ever survived such charges, but the only punishment so far demanded for Kaganovich and Malenkov is expulsion from the Communist party.

The speakers said former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and former President Klementi V. Voroshilov bore similar guilt, but direct and detailed charges against them have not been made yet.

Nevertheless, it seemed clear that this would be done before the party congress ends. Their expulsion from the party was also demanded.

Voroshilov, strangely enough, is serving on the Presidium of honor. Nikolai Podgorny, first secretary of the Ukraine, charged that all four men fought Premier Khrushchev's campaign of de-Stalinization because "they were personally responsible for many mass repressions."

The denunciation in Pravda aroused curiosity whether a new series of purge trials was being prepared and, after reading a section of a speech by Gennady Voronov, there was speculation that a new purge might sweep other Communist countries too. Voronov is party leader of the Russian Federated Republic, largest in the Soviet Union.

"This congress will serve a serious new warning to all sorts of apostates of Marxism, revisionists and dogmatists, who are trying to impede the Socialist development of peoples and trying to divert the Communist and workers' parties from the correct Leninist way," Voronov said.

In the Kremlin dictionary, revisionism usually is associated with the brand of communism practiced by President Tito of Yugoslavia, dogmatism with the kind espoused by Red China's leader.

Nikita About to Lower the Boom . . . Soon

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Associated Press News Analyst

BERLIN (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev's heavy propaganda artillery is zeroing in on his enemies. The events at the Soviet Communist party congress in Moscow suggest he is winning his struggle and etting the scene for announcement of a house-cleaning.

It seems likely, in fact, that the urge already is well under way. Probably it was started well in advance of the 22nd party congress at least at the lower levels.

But Khrushchev wants and apparently needs total victory. This means at a minimum the expulsion from the Communist party of those he labeled antiparty in 1957. The congress can provide the machinery for Khrushchev's purposes.

Awaiting formal approval are some new ideas concerning the statutes by which the Communist party is supposed to govern itself. The changes may involve new methods for expelling and punishing members who have fallen into disgrace. There are indications that new sins will be invented, such as failure to show sufficient devotion to the Communist cause or lack of faithfulness to the principle of collective leadership.

If Khrushchev has won, heads will roll. It will mean expulsion from the party and possibly worse for former Premier Georgi Malenkov, for Lazar Kaganovich, the one-time union commissar of the Ukraine and a Stalin stalwart, for old former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, for former Premier Nikolai Bulganin and many others.

There may be shocks outside the U.S.S.R., too. Those Communists in parties abroad, particularly in the satellite nations, who have failed to show sufficient devotion to Khrushchev's free-wheeling interpretation of Marxism-Leninism may be slated for the political ax.

A new party declaration—one is expected from this congress—could well cover that phase of the urge, which could bring down such men as Walter Ulbricht, the Stalinist boss of East Germany, and others of his stamp.

Sees End to Colonialism in Africa

WASHINGTON (AP)—President

William V. S. Tubman of Liberia predicted today that colonialism in Africa will come to an end.

"The way may be long and the fight bitter, but the end to tyranny and oppression is bound to come," Tubman, President Kennedy's guest in Washington, declared in a speech prepared for a luncheon at the National Press Club.

The Liberian president also urged "cooperative endeavors" on a long-term basis to develop his country's rich natural resources.

Liberia, he said, invites "business entrepreneurs to explore and exploit the possibilities with us for industrial enterprises."

Before his speech, Tubman conferred for an hour with Secretary of State Dean Rusk. He termed the talk "very interesting and very promising."

It is understood Liberia is asking $200 million in the form of a five-year development loan.

Sunday - Monday at Saenger

"FRANCIS OF ASSISI" STARS STUART WHITMAN, Bradford Dillman and Dolores Hart in the story of how a lusty, fighting young adventurer turned into a saintly man of God.

Coming Soon to Saenger

Bill Travers (left) debates whether or not to let his younger brother, Sean Kelly, take over as his navigator, as mechanics Roland Curran and Peter Collingsworth await the verdict. The scene is from "The Green Helmet," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's excitement-packed drama of auto racing.

"CIMARRON" STARS GLENN FORD, MARIA SCHELL, Anne Baxter, Arthur O'Connell with Russ Tamblyn, Vic Morrow and Mercedes McCambridge in Edna Ferber's great novel.

More State Stops for Air Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board has authorized Trans-Texas Airways to operate nonstop between Memphis, Tenn., and Little Rock, Ark. on flights that go beyond Little Rock. The order will eliminate one intermediate stop on such flights at Pine Bluff, Ark.

Rehire Worker, Conway Plant Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board has affirmed an examiner's recommendation that the Twin Table and Furniture Co. of Conway, Ark., be required to rehire an employee allegedly discharged for union activity. The company was ordered to offer re-employment to J. B. Kitchen, a welder, and to halt any anti-union activity on its part.

100th Birthday

APPOMATTOX, Va. (AP)—Mrs. Charles H. Coleman celebrated her 100th birthday anniversary Wednesday. Often called Appomattox's first lady, Mrs. Coleman has five stepchildren, 19 stepgrandchildren and 30 stepgreat-grandchildren. Her father, Edward Burge, was killed in the battle of Gettysburg. She married a soldier who fought in that battle. Her husband died in 1945 at the age of 101.

Fallout Increase

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—KLM Royal Dutch Airlines said Wednesday a light increase of radioactive fallout had been observed recently on the wings and engines of high-flying planes. KLM engineers working on these planes were instructed to wash their hands carefully.

Saturday, Oct. 21

Members of the Jr. High School and St. MYF will attend a Youth Rally at Mt. Rich near Mena on Saturday, Oct. 21 with Gladwin Connell, Chris Petre, George Frazier, Steve Bader and Mrs. G. G. Medders as chaperons. Those who plan to go, meet at the church at 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

The Shover Springs Baptist Church WMA is sponsoring a supper in the Fellowship Hall of the church on Saturday, October 21 at 7:30 p. m. Everyone is invited to come, enjoy good food, and take part in the Biblical spelling match later in the evening. No admission will be charged, but a free will offering will be taken to help pay the debt on the Fellowship Hall.

Hodges Is Busiest in Government

By MAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Probably the government's busiest guided missile today is Luther H. Hodges, a rolling stone upon whom no moss grows.

At 63, Hodges, secretary of Commerce, is the oldest member of President Kennedy's Cabinet, but he likes to point out he is also the only Cabinet member who drives a sports car.

In nine months on his new job Hodges has traveled 60,000 miles, visited most sections of the country, been to Mexico and made two whirlwind trips to Europe. Next week's destination: Tokyo.

"I've never worked so hard in my life," he said during a pause here en route from Madrid to Washington. "This New Frontier is exciting and moves pretty fast."

Hodges, one of nine children of a North Carolina tobacco farmer, has always enjoyed going at a fast clip. He helped work his way through college selling Bibles, made a fortune in business and quit at 32 to enter politics.

Soon after taking office, the new Commerce secretary moved to help businessmen by simplifying the issuance of patents and speeding up U.S. census reports.

But Hodges, a strongly built, blue-eyed man with a vast amount of urbane as well as folksy Southern charm, is to restlessness lay long behind a desk.

He isn't the board chairman type. He is a supersalesman, a missionary with a message.

This is his message: "America needs to sell more goods abroad, and it needs more foreign tourists to come over and spend money here."

"The average American firm has had such a good market at home it hasn't felt it necessary to sell abroad. But it's time now they get into the export field as an insurance."

"As to travel, our people spend $2.1 billion abroad each year. But all the rest of the world spends less than $1 billion on trips to our country."

Hodges hugely enjoys his new role as the federal government's first official travel agent. And he has spread his gospel in person before audiences abroad from Finland to Spain.

What does he tell them? He tells them: "You've got more money now. We've got deficits, you've got surpluses."

"Why not spend some of it seeing America—and invest some of it there, too?"

Hodges believes the message is getting across.

"Practically everyone abroad has a basic desire to visit America," he said. "We hope to increase the spending of foreign tourists here by $100 million next year."

He is opening seven U.S. travel agencies abroad to spread information on the scenic and economic advantages of the Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave.

"The big obstacle is that many people over there think travel in America is too expensive. I told them in West Germany 'Why it cost me more to come see you, than it would you to come see us. That's the truth.'"

"Why, in one hotel it cost me 120 marks—about $30—to stay overnight."

But Hodges said the amount of future foreign tourist travel here depends largely on Americans themselves.

"It isn't enough simply to get them over here," he said. "We have to make them feel so welcome they'll want to come again. Word of mouth—that's the thing!"

Southern Seeks Big League Ties
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A four-man executive committee within the Southern Baseball Association is set up to give the league a united front in seeking major league working agreements.

Directors of the class AA league met in Birmingham Thursday and named Eddie Glenn of Birmingham, Joe Egle of Chattanooga, Ray Winder of Little Rock and league President Hal Totten to the committee.

Totten said the four clubs without working agreements have tacitly agreed to abide by any agreement worked out for them by the committee.

He said working agreements for all eight clubs are a vital prerequisite for operation in 1962.

THE STORY: Don Willie apparently intends to leave no loose threads in covering up his swindle on Spanish government contracts in Morocco. He sends James Lynch into the plane, which Mike Beecher had been forced to pilot after it was hijacked. Lynch has a gun, but Mike locks him out of the pilot's compartment. Then Lynch sets fire to the plane. When Mike comes out of the cockpit Lynch raises a gun in his hand.

Chapter XVII
Beecher saw this in a distorted flash as he ran through the fire with his arms wrapped about his head. There was the crack of the gun, a mean, spiteful noise in the roar of the fire, but the bullet missed him; he felt nothing but flames searing the backs of his hands, and then the metal floor of the plane scraped his cheek as he tripped and crunched at Lynch's feet. He tried to rise; there was air in his lungs now, cool dry air blowing against his face.

As he raised his head, Lynch's face was suddenly clear and distinct above the smoke. He looked as if he might be crying; there were no tears on his cheeks, but his eyes were bright with emotion.

"I've got to, you know that!" He raised the gun in his hand and swung it down across Beecher's temple. The effect of the blow was curiously delayed; Beecher felt the cold metal floor under his face again, saw Lynch's legs disappear against the calm sky, was aware of the heat and flames about his own body—he seemed to experience all of this the instant Lynch struck him. But after that diamond-bright cluster of sensations, there came the pain, the darkness, and the acceptance of death.

Finally Beecher opened his eyes. This didn't help him; he seemed to be completely without physical orientation, perceptions blurred by nausea and pain. The desert stood like a wall before him, green and roughly surfaced, slanting sharply upward to a white sky. The effect was illusory; he decided, blinking his eyes; he was lying on his stomach, cheek resting on metal and staring out the doorway of the airplane.

The noise of the fire had died away, but the ship was thick with a rosy, oily smoke; it swung in thick, luxuriant loops, heavy with There was motion beyond the range of his eyes; a draft stirred slowly, and the beatings of moisture in the air sparkled in the sunlight. The curtains of smoke parted; Beecher saw a pair of slender ankles swinging toward

Get All the Facts, Then Decide!

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I'm a middle-aged widow on my own, putting my son through high school. The two of us are doing very nicely, although I would be very lonely if it were not for a fine gentleman friend who takes me out frequently.

My married daughters disapprove of him, and are very rude if he visits me while they are here. They were the same way with a friend I had a few years ago, and I'm sure it would be the same with any man I happened to like. —Shirley.

Dear Shirley: Your loneliness may blind you to undesirable traits in the man that are more apparent to your daughters. You should ask them exactly why they object to your friend; if their reasons seem valid, consider them.

If, on the other hand, they can give you no sound basis for their objections, continue the friendship. In any case, an open discussion would be the best way to soothe everyone's ruffled feathers.

Young people often do take an unreasonable attitude toward the romances—actual or potential—of their widowed parents. They assume that loneliness, need of companionship, and desire for security shouldn't exist in anyone over 30. Often, too, there's a selfish complication to the problem, with the young marrieds assuming that when Mom finds an interest of her own, she won't be too available for baby-sitting jobs.

All these considerations must be analyzed before the right answer is reached. If your daughters' objections to your friend are flimsy, you can be sure they aren't dictated by a genuine interest in your welfare.

Another possibility is offered by the fact that you make no mention of matrimonial prospects in your letter. If your girls think your friend is taking advantage of your good nature and hospitality, they are justifiably resentful. So you see, there are arguments pro and con; it's up to you to decide which side is right.

Dear Helen: My boy friend's brother "cloned" a few weeks ago and, although the girl's parents were present, he didn't tell his own family until after the wedding. Now, my friend and I want to become engaged before he goes overseas, his mother says if we do, she won't come to the engagement party. —Patsy.

Dear Patsy: One cannot quarrel with the mother's attitude. She's naturally very hurt over the actions of one son, and her reaction is to try to cling closer to the remaining boy. It would be considerate if you delayed your own engagement for a time. Both

State Guard Peps Up Training
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas National Guard's 148th Evacuation Hospital of Little Rock has started intensified daily training at a guard armory here before reporting at Ft. Chaffee on Oct. 27.

The unit has been assigned a part in reopening of Chaffee's base hospital in connection with reactivation of the post as a training center.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus was a guest of the unit at a lunch at the armory Thursday.

Beecher didn't believe her for an instant; this was the old bitter pattern, another trick, a fresh deception.

"You knew all along what Don Willie was planning?" "Yes! Yes! I couldn't go to the police. I couldn't hurt him. But I tried to save you."

She sat down on the arm of a charred seat and began to cry. Beecher took out his cigarettes and lit one. "Let's have your story," he said.

"I knew Don Willie was stealing this plane," She pressed her fingers to her temples. "He and Lynch talked about it. I heard them. Then I learned they could not use the Frenchman. They talked about you." She shook her head quickly. "I thought I could leave you without hurting Don Willie. I went to your villa for cigarettes. I tried to say things that might make you think the job was not good. But it was no use. I went to Don Julio and told him the lies about the black market. I thought he would arrest you, hold you in Miramar until the plane was gone. But it made me too ashamed. Last night I left for Madrid in Don Willie's car. But I couldn't run away. I came back and left the car at the Black Dove. I took it to the airport. I don't know what I was thinking about. You were all inside. The plane was standing alone in the darkness."

soft and the boy are young enough to do so.

Dear Helen: During the summer I visited my sister, and there met a young man of 20, two years older than myself. I told him I'd get back in a few weeks, but I'd have a chance for another trip. My friends say he's been asking for me and I'm sure he loves me as much as I do him. Should I give up my job here, and go to my sister's town for good? I have no parents but live with another sister. —Peg.

Dear Peg: I am afraid that there's nothing but disappointment in store for you with this romance. If the boy really liked you, it's certain he would have written, or come to see you, in the past few months. He's had lots of time to further the acquaintance if he wanted to. So, if your only reason for changing jobs is to fall into his waiting arms—stay where you are.

HEALTH HINTS

By DR. CHARLES JOHNSON — "CHIROPRACTOR"

THESE SICK WOMEN GOT WELL

A stiff neck that was painful to turn, and a soreness between her shoulders brought this twenty-seven year old mother to the Johnson Chiropractic Clinic for help.

During our consultation she related other distressing symptoms that she didn't know were within our chiropractic scope of practice such as sick headaches, nausea, chronic head congestion with post-nasal drainage, coupled with nervous, tremulous spells, severe abdominal cramps and related painful female trouble.

Our regular spinal analysis and X-Rays disclosed injuries evidently sustained from falls that she remembered having on the ice and about the home, that were causing nerve interference responsible for her mounting symptoms.

She was pleasantly surprised when she was able to report, at her first comparative examination period, that not only were her neck and shoulder pains gone, but those organic conditions originally thought to be, and our scope were rapidly disappearing. She learned from this amazing experience that her nervous system controlled her entire body. She is well and happy.

Several years ago a lovely fifty-one-year-old widow suffered severe emotional tension. She was depressed, despondent, exhausted from sleepless nights, eyes swollen, etc. She had a drawing pain over her kidneys, chronic constipation, gas, bloating and indigestion. Her heart pounded so rapidly that she felt frightened. For years she tried all the usual methods and medicines. She changed physicians and was given a complete check-up including X-rays. She was told she was suffering nervous tension and acid indigestion, given a prescription and sent home. She gradually grew worse. Then her niece, who had been a former patient, brought her to the Johnson Chiropractic Clinic, where she, too, had regained her health.

Our chiropractic analysis of her spine located defective nerve currents and X-Rays disclosed spinal subluxations (misalignments) causing the nerve interference. We corrected the offending vertebral disturbances and in due time her health returned to normal. No indigestion, no nervous tension, no heart palpitations. Just good health. Nerves connect with every organ.

If the other doctors have made you well — you don't need us. If you are not well, investigate. You have nothing to lose except bad health.

Little Over Worked in Garments

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"Little" is an overworked word in the garment district. Perspiring, violent buyers shopping here this week for next spring's styles can vouch for that.
At nearly every showroom on Thursday the conversation centered around the "little" nothing or snob dress, the "little" suit, the "little" blouse.
Adele Simpson had a good excuse for using the word. In this diet-conscious age her customers have pared off so much weight that she is now manufacturing dresses in size 6.
But even though designer Hannah Troy has established a reputation for flattering diminutive women, she didn't really mean size when she talked about "little" things.
She meant "minimum amount of fabric and style detail." That's the new definition arrived at by the so-called fashion intellectuals.
In Miss Troy's collection there were many chic "little" suits (for large size women, too) in black and white, navy, red, and pastels. Sometimes the lining matched the "little" blouses. At other times it was a bright, different hue.
Her suits and dresses went along with the spring trend to slightly higher waistlines. And, as the majority of other fashion houses thus far, her styles were figure-conscious.

Bobcats Lose to Magnolia 14-7

By VINCE FOSTER

The Hope Bobcats were dropped for their sixth loss of the season last night, as the Magnolia Panthers spoiled the Bobcat Homecoming 14-7.

The Cats won the opening toss, and thus started their first drive on the Hope 45. In 10 plays they marched to Magnolia's 5, after a 21 yard pass play from Mac McLarty to Marcum. Here HB John Crain carried it over for the first score of the game. Porterfield added the extra point and the Cats enjoyed a short-lived 7-0 lead.

The Panthers stopped the next Bobcat drive on the 11, and drove quickly to the Bobcat 22, where QB Burton found his end Brown on a 10 yard pass play to the 12. Clemons capped the drive as he plunged over from the one. Couch provided the PAT, which tied it up 7-7.

The Magnolia Band presented the fans with one of the most unusual halftime shows seen in Hammons Stadium. It consisted of the band playing in the dark, with only lights from their caps. The Hope marching band also performed.

Early in the third quarter, Tony McLarty scampered 30 yards to the victors 9, and then carried three times to the 2 yard line, where the Cats were held, thus losing their only important scoring threat of the half.

Midway in the final quarter the Cats stopped a Magnolia drive on the 7, and then had to punt out to the 20. The Panthers quickly moved to the 1, where Couch provided the power for the score. He also kicked the PAT, and the scoreboard read Home 7, Visitors 14.

Tony McLarty was the big rusher for the Bobcats with 61 yards. Crain and Dudley picked up 18 each, while McDowell carried for 22. Mac McLarty for 12, and Wayne for 2. Charles Beggs was the top defense player for the Cats.

Next week the Bobcats travel to Camden, who is leading the district, for their final AAA bout of the year.

Ex-Newsboys See Too Much Coddling Now

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Two former newspaperboys now in the Cabinet have taken a look at today's youngest generation and done some head shaking. To much coddling of children, to little parental discipline, too little urging of offspring to get gainful jobs perhaps because allowances are higher these days.

But a publisher who has business relations with some 32,000 youngsters across the land comes to the kids' defense. They're as good as ever, he says, at least in the smaller towns where his publication largely is distributed.

Saturday is Newspaperboy Day. So a lot of famous former newsboys may be looking over the shoulders of the two Cabinet members: Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges, and Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Abraham A. Ribicoff.

Some in the list are former Presidents Hoover, Eisenhower and Truman; Chief Justice Warren; Gen. Gruenther, Sens. Sparkman, Mundt and Yarborough; Jack Dempsey and Walt Disney—to name only a few.

Hodges says today's parents aren't using discipline to teach children the joys and rewards of work. He fears this is helping to make the nation soft.

Ribicoff also decries coddling and lays a lot of the blame to restrictive laws on hiring youngsters. But he sees a growing feeling against teaching of self-respect and a sense of responsibility through work.

The publisher who thinks neither the boys nor the parents, especially in the multitude of smaller cities, are that bad is George R. Lamade of Williamsport, Pa. His newspaper, Grit, is billed as a national publication devoted itself to small-town America.

One of its early newsboys was Luther B. Hodges himself. Others include "Happy" Chandler of Kentucky and Ford Frick, present baseball commissioner, House Republican Leader Halleck, Carl Sandburg and Gene Autry.

Many city newspaper publishers report having their troubles recruiting youthful distributors these days.

But in big and small cities they are likely to agree that newsboys still can learn a lot that's useful later on. They cite training in salesmanship, learning to talk on their feet, making contacts with various types of people getting poise and self-assurance, training in the virtues of reliability and promptness.

Juvenile delinquency may make the headlines these days. But Lamade says that in large sections of the land there are plenty of American parents who want to improve their children's position in life by encouraging them to take jobs—where the laws allow—that will give them the training and experience they need.

"Give a boy something to do a girl, that will improve himself," he says, "and you help him keep out of trouble."

So the secretaries and the publisher really get together after all. And Lamade also agrees that "many parents seem inclined to delegate the responsibility to cultivate good work habits and attitudes among youngsters to the schools and churches."

All three say this should primarily be a job for parents, without downgrading the roles of the schools, churches and lawmakers. So, if you're a newsboy today you can see you rate high with many persons. And if you belong to the big army of onetime news-take jobs—where the laws allow pause to spare a smile for one of your successors. It might even be

Reds Cancel Showing of World Orbit

BALTIMORE (AP)—What would have been the first public showing in the United States of Maj. Gherman S. Titov's orbital flight was canceled suddenly Thursday night by Russian Embassy officials.

Ten minutes before the movie was scheduled to begin embassy attache Viktor K. Novash rushed here and picked up the film. He said only that it was "urgently needed in New York."

The Russian Embassy earlier had telephoned the Maryland Academy of Sciences, which was sponsoring the showing and told an official the movie was canceled. The call came to late, however, to stop a private viewing of the film, which had just been completed.

Foreign correspondents in Moscow saw the 45-minute color film and heard the Russian commentary Oct. 9.

An Associated Press newsmen, who viewed Thursday night's private showing, said the film included scenes of the training of Titov and others, and some views of a rocket. The rocket's full size was not shown.

Ray Thompson of the Maryland Academy of Sciences said the Russian Embassy assured him the film would be made available to the academy again in a few weeks.

That will improve himself," he says, "and you help him keep out of trouble."

So the secretaries and the publisher really get together after all. And Lamade also agrees that "many parents seem inclined to delegate the responsibility to cultivate good work habits and attitudes among youngsters to the schools and churches."

All three say this should primarily be a job for parents, without downgrading the roles of the schools, churches and lawmakers. Prescott Is Edged 7 to 6 by Nashville

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A missed point after touchdown was the margin by which Prescott lost an all-important 7-A conference game to Nashville, 7 to 6 before an overflowing crowd in Prescott stadium Friday night.

A. Tollett, Scraper fullback, electrified the crowd near the end of the first quarter when he dashed up the middle from his own 45 and went 55 yards for a TD. The point was good and Nashville led 7-0.

At the very end of the first quarter the Curley Wolves surged back and were down on Nashville's goal line. Right after the goals were switched for the second quarter QB Gerry Worthington went over for a touchdown, point was missed, and Prescott trailed 6 to 7. And that was the half game.

There were breaks for both teams the rest of the game, in recovered fumbles, but neither could score again.

The Wolves charged down the field in a desperation try during the final minutes of the game, but an intercepted pass ended the venture — and the game closed with the ball in Nashville's possession.

On first downs Prescott had an astonishing edge of 10 to 2, and outrushed Nashville 181 yards to 113, but the battle was nip and tuck all the way, with a speedy attack and a sharp defense on both sides.

Friday night's victory put Nashville on top of District 7-A, with a record of 4 wins, no losses, 1 tie. Previously Prescott was the conference leader with 2 wins, no losses and no ties.

Hope Star photographed this 7-A game Friday night and the pictures will be published Monday afternoon — the usual schedule because of Saturday's 9 a.m. deadline.

"FROM HERE"

... it appears our world needs a lot of 'fixin up.' Too often, too many of us do our day-to-day job in a half-hearted way. We lose our perspective... our relationship to the world. We get to feeling our importance. Right there is our un-doing. When a man loses humility, he is on the way out. This man, with his wrench, looks at the world from way up. He wonders if he did his best on the foundation underneath him... if the high walls will support the structure he is atop. Both are basic to good building. The church, too, is necessary in the building of character, in the transforming of souls. It will help us greatly in the training of people to help fix our world. It will make good stewards of us who will be more anxious to share the fruit of the vine. So let us attend church or Synagogue every week. Let us, in earnest, help this man 'fix up' our world.
